

TRAINING

MariRose James received her Professional Certification as a Riding Instructor through the Equine Studies Institute. She enjoys participating in all phases of horse training from a young horse's first outing to National level shows, leisurely trail rides or having fun cross training with jumps and obstacles. She attends clinics and training sessions conducted by nationally renowned professionals to continue her lifetime commitment to equine studies.

MariRose's training, experience, love, and passion for horses has taught her the ongoing importance of the individuality and uniqueness of each horse. Her talent and patience in this area sets her apart from her contemporaries as she continually strives to improve each horse's health and comfort while helping the rider to be at their best, resulting in a deeper connection and understanding between horse and rider.

MariRose excels at strengthening the ongoing bond between the horse and its rider by providing clear, concise, easy to understand, and patient instruction. By better understanding concepts, terms, commands the riding experience and interactions are clearer and more understandable. A more enjoyable, fun, and successful learning experience is created.

MariRose continually works with experts to help develop correct form, fitted saddles, and comfortable tack equipment to ensure safe development, health, and comfort to the horse to establish and maintain a successful training plan.
